

Emilie Scriven Dip HE Nursing

Emilie is a qualified senior community nurse practitioner who has worked in both the acute and community setting. Emilie has worked with patients and families from a diverse background including those with neurological and spinal injuries within the community setting liaising with members of the wider multi-disciplinary teams to provide joined up holistic care.

As well as community based care Emilie has worked as a nurse on a general medical ward providing evidence based critical care to patients with a variety of acute medical conditions including stroke patients, patients with complex learning disabilities and exacerbations of long term conditions.

Emilie has excellent clinical knowledge of a broad range of long term conditions including brain and spinal injuries, cognitive impairment and mental health conditions. She has a good understanding of rehabilitation and goal setting within the healthcare setting.

Emilie has extensive experience in assessing and coordinating the needs of patients with complex physical, emotional, and social care needs. She has worked within multi-disciplinary teams of occupational therapists, physiotherapists, and social workers, and has experience of working with carers to ensuring the ongoing care of patients is provided and delivered in a safe and timely manner. Emilie is familiar with writing up care plans and ensuring they are satisfactorily implemented.

With a passion for developing ongoing therapeutic relationships with patients, their families and other professionals, she considers herself to be an advocate for the often vulnerable people she cares for ensuring they receive the best possible care.

Since qualifying Emilie has ensured she has continued with her ongoing training and development. She is a qualified student mentor and regularly supervises junior team members. She is up to date with the Mental Health Act and Deprivation of Liberties training and has taken part in regular study days relevant to her role including safeguarding adults and children and information governance.

Emilie is extremely motivated and well organised with excellent communication skills.

During her nursing training Emilie worked as an assistant in a rehabilitation unit and before working as a nurse, Emilie ran her own creative design and jewellery making company and has worked as an adult education tutor.
