

Debjani Roy, BSc. (Hons) Physiotherapy, MSc. Physiotherapy

Debjani qualified as a physiotherapist in 2002 and completed her Masters degree from Keele University in 2004. She initially worked in the NHS with adults with traumatic brain injuries, orthopaedic injuries and learning difficulties, before later specialising in paediatrics. She has over 12 years of experience in working in a variety of neurological, orthopaedic and community settings gaining experience with clients at various stages of recovery. These include acute hospital admission, outpatient rehabilitation and community rehabilitation settings. Her extensive experience includes working in the NHS as well as the private sector with individuals who have been through major trauma, brain injury, complex orthopaedic, neurological and psychological injuries.

Debjani is skilled at assessing the needs of clients, including the specialist areas of postural management, equipment, therapy and specialist support. She is used to working with multiple agencies, social services and educational settings as well as in hospital and community settings to ensure that the best possible outcomes are achieved for her clients.

Debjani ensures her practice is evidence based and offers a highly professional, proactive and client centred approach to her work. She is skilled in liaising and working with multi-professional teams, parents, family members and carers. Debjani has experience in providing ongoing support and training for parents and family members, carers and educational staff. She has been involved in formulating and implementing Education Health and Care Plans (EHCP) for children with complex physical, health and psychological needs.

Since 2016 Debjani has utilised her extensive clinical experience whilst working as a case manager, working with clients to maximise their rehabilitation potential to facilitate their return to functional independence and work. She has experience in setting up rehabilitation packages for individuals and families affected by catastrophic injuries and has recently worked with survivors of the Grenfell fire to aid them with their rehabilitation.

At Ainscough Associates, Debjani works as a case manager using her expertise to assist children and adults with neurological conditions, such as cerebral palsy, acquired brain injury and spinal cord injury, and with complex orthopaedic, amputation and psychological injuries. She creatively advocates for her clients and has direct experience of recruiting and supervising care and support staff with the skills and qualities needed to compliment the needs of the individual.

Debjani is based in Northamptonshire and works with clients in and around the Midlands area, London and Buckinghamshire. She is a member of the Chartered Society of Physiotherapy, is HCPC registered and is a member of the Case Management Society of the UK.

She is fluent in Hindi, Bengali and Marathi and understands Urdu and Gujarati languages.
